MACHINERY

Coming to the Cordage Factory By the Car Load, Forty-five Loads of it in All.

The Big Concern Will Probably Be Ready For Business About May 1—To Employ Nearly 200 Operatives.

The cordage factory is rapidly approaching completion. The big building is practically completed. It is of brick, two stories, 240 feet by 75 feet on the inside, and with two large L's. The side track has been put in by the L. C., and the shipment of machinery has already begun. Some idea of the vast amount of machinery needed can be gotten from the fact that 45 car loads of machinery will be shipped in to equip the plant. Of this equipment two loads are already here.

It is the expectation of the management to have everything in readiness to begin operations by May 1.
The company will employ from 120 to 200 operatives, according to their skill, 120 skilled operatives being the number the plant requires. The starting of this plant will give opportunity to that number of people in this city to secure work.

TERRIBLE FATE OF THE BATTLESHIP MAINE.

Sank in Havana Harbor By the Bursting of a Dynamite Cartridge.

Of Four Hundred Officers, Crew and Marines Only Thirty.
Three Have Been Found.

NO OFFICIAL REPORT MADE

Of the Cause of the Terrible Calamity—The Department at Washington Crowded
With People.

Washington, Feb. 16, 1 p. m.—
The latest news of the loss of the Maine is that of the 400 crew and marines on the ship, only 33 have been found.

The excitement in this city is intense, and great crowds are around the state and navy departments. The state department is endeavoring to allay the terrible suspicions of the people, but the people are suspicious that some important facts are being withheld.

No official report of the cause of the disaster has been made and this fact only increases the public anxiety all the more.

Secretary of the Navy Long says that the accident was probably owing to the explosion in the magazine of the Maine of a dynamite cartridge, as there is everything to indicate it. But the fact that no explanation has been made causes an uneasy feeling to prevail.

Captain Sigsbee says that at least 225 have been lost.

Spanish reports say that the loss of the ship was purely due to an accident.

Havana, Feb. 16.—The battleship Maine was blown up last night at 9:30 p.
m. by a dynamite cartridge.

New York, Feb. 16.—Bulletin 10 a.m.—The latest information from Havana is that the destruction of the Maine was caused by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge in the magazine of the battleship. The wreck immediately caught fire and burned to the water's edge. Two officers and two hundred marines are missing and it is believed that the list of volunteers will reach fully 175.

Washington, Feb. 16, 2:30 p. m.—
The United States battleship Maine blew up in Havana harbor at 9:30 o'clock last night, with fearful destruction.

Capt. Sigsbee, who was in command, this afternoon reports that thirty-five of the 400 men aboard accounted for. Two officers are among the lost.

The Maine has not yet made his report, and the nature of the tragedy cannot at this time be definitely stated. Cuban sympathizers in this city, however, are strong in the suspicion that the explosion was the work of Spanish agents, who therein sought vengeance for the De Leon incident. At the state department the accident theory goes unquestioned, pending further particulars.

Several congressmen have expressed the opinion that a United States fleet should be sent to Cuban waters forthwith, but neither branch of congress has taken any action today. They await more complete information on the subject.

Captain-General Blanco and all the Spanish officials say it was purely an accident, and express the most profound regret.

Washington, Feb. 16, 2:40 p. m.— Neither Commander Sigsbee, nor Consul General Lee will report as to the cause. Their silence is believed to be significant. Reports in Washington this afternoon indicate loss of life to be at least three hundred and still feared that as many as four hundred may have been lost. The cabinet took no action today but is waiting reports. The feeling grows that the Maine was wrecked by treachery.

Havana, Feb. 16.—Immediately after the explosion of the battleship Maine last night, her commander, Capt. Sigsbee, sent to the United States Secretary of the Navy the following cablegram:

"Maine blown up in Havana harbor at 9:40 and destroyed. Many wounded and doubtless more killed." the liabilities. The latter will not go over $5,000.

The company will continue in business until May 1st, to complete their steam contracts, and their contract to furnish coal to the public schools.

MORE BURGLARS.

Mrs. Nunemacher's House Entered
By Thieves.

Thieves invaded the pantry at the residence of Mrs. Nunemacher, on South Fifth near Clark, last night.
They pulled down the upper sash of a window and crawled in, tearing the curtain down. Nothing but provisions were stolen, and the thieves left no clue.

STOLEN WATCH.

Was Located Today In a Pawn Shop
Here.

A news agent today located at one of the pawn shops on Second street, a watch stolen about two months ago from Engineer W. M. Ash, who was robbed at Brooklyn.

The works had been removed and a new set placed in the case. The matter is being investigated by the police.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT.

Terrible Accident to Thomas Warford.

Was Haunting Logs—One Rolled Over Him.

Thomas Warford, a well known young farmer of near New Liberty church, this county is a dying condition.

Day before yesterday he was hauling logs to Jas. Barnett's mill. There were three big logs on the wagon, and a sudden lurch threw one on top of him, and crushed him against the other. He was carried home, and at last accounts his internal injuries were considered fatal. The accident is greatly deplored, as he is one of the most respected farmers in the county, and built New Liberty church.

BURGLARY AT MAYFIELD.

Broke Into About a Dozen Houses.

Blood Hounds Put On Their Trail
This Morning.

Bold house breakers made a tour of Mayfield last night, entering ten or twelve houses situated just out of the city limits. Money and clothing were taken from every place. Blood hounds were put on the trail at 5 o'clock this morning, but being young dogs, they have not yet found the men. One of the robbers changed clothes and left his pants and an empty purse near ex-United States Collector Cosby's premises, by which Chief McNutt thinks he will land the thieves.

Col. St. John Boyle was, by order of United States District Judge Barr, yesterday at Louisville, released from all obligations as receiver of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern Railroad company, provided he pay into court the sum of $7,447.14, shown by his report to be in his hands. He was directed to turn over to the Illinois Central Railroad company the assets of the receivership, which company is substituted for the receiver to whatever liability may arise on him to repay into court sums or money expended or withdrawn during his term of receivership.

CITY MATTERS.

Mayor Lang Returns From His Hunt—Letters From the Rosenkranz Heirs
Await Him.

Representative Mocquot Writes a Letter to Clerk Patterson.
Rowlandtown People
Want a Policeman.

Mayor Lang returned last night from a two days' hunt in Tennessee, and says he enjoyed his outing, although he regretted to find the city without light or water.

Two letters were today received from the Rosenkranz heirs, at Evansville, by Mayor Lang. These are E.
C. Rosenkranz, Coven and Douglas Schultz and Wm. F. Rosenkranz, of 331 Upper Third street, Evansville.
The relative desire all possible information relative to the inheritance in Germany.

The people of Rowlandtown, at the next meeting of the council, will petition for a policeman in that locality.

Clerk Patterson today received a letter from Representative J. D. Moc-quot, at Frankfort, stating that the proposed amendment to the charter of cities of the third class relative to damage suits against the city, proposed by Henderson and indorsed by the Paducah council a few nights ago, had never come up, so far as he knew, and he thinks it will be impossible to pass it at this session.

City Clerk Patterson today began another diary on the big iron door to the vault in his office. The other side of the door contains a diary of all the important events of the past several years up to the time he went out of office two years ago. The new diary begins, "Water plant breaks down; city without light or water."

Today the order to remove all obstructions from the sidewalks went into effect, and Mayor Lang has instructed the police to secure warrants against all offenders.

FUNERAL FRIDAY.

Ensign Breckinridge's Body Enroute to His Old Home.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 16.—The funeral services of young J. C. Breckinridge, who met death while on duty as an ensign by drowning from the torpedo boat Cushing, off the coast of Cuba last Saturday, will be conducted by the Rev. W. S. Fulton of the First Presbyterian church. The body will arrive here from Washington Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock.
The funeral will take place from the residence of Dr. H. M. Skillman.
The family of the dead sailor boy will attend the funeral and will accompany the body from Washington.

There will be no prayer services at the First Presbyterian church tonight. Owing to the scarcity of water, the church cannot be heated.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 16, 1898

The average Daily Circulation of the Sun for the year 1897 was 1589 copies, as shown by the daily records of the office and provided by the sworn affidavits of four responsible men.

The Sun claims the largest circulation of any daily paper in Paducah. From the day of its first issue it has made its circulation public and asks its advertisers to make a complete investigation of its circulation books at any time. No other paper in Paducah will state its circulation.

There is one thing upon which the Republican party and Bryan perfectly agree; that the Democratic platform and candidate of 1896 should be the Democratic platform and candidate of 1900.

When the supporters of the Goebel election bill refer to the satisfactory workings of the Tennessee election law, they refer we suppose to the time the Democrats stole the state when a Republican had been elected governor by a majority of several thousand.

The intervention sentiment in Congress has expanded wonderfully since the publication of the De Lome letter, and the attitude of the Spanish government is not such as to allay the enthusiasm and the desire to do something for Cuba. Fate has decreed that Cuba shall be freed from Spanish rule, and even her enemies are made to hasten the day of deliverance.

One of the most interesting opportunities for a character study in current political life is presented by the career of Senator Goebel, the author of the infamous bill now before the Kentucky Legislature. When an aspirant for gubernatorial honors can publicly admit that he considers the domination of the Democratic party to be above the interests of the people in any part of the state he exhibits the very lowest state of political thought, and imputes a servility to the people of this commonwealth that is revolting. And yet this man is an accepted leader of the Democracy of the state.

Various Pythian lodges in the state are asking representatives in the legislature from their districts to support the amendment suggested in Gov. Bradley's message, to the bill by which the general assembly appropriated $10,000 for the erection of monuments to Kentucky's soldiers of either army at Chattanooga and Chickamauga parks. The enactment contemplated six monuments, three Union and three Confederate, to mark different decisive points where Kentuckians were engaged in the battle's commemoration. Gov. Bradley very wisely concluded that the small amount available could better be expended in the erection of one suitable monument to re-united American valor with modest markers to indicate the climax of Kentucky heroism. It is perhaps the first time an American secret society has taken open part in a question of this character, but the Knights of Pythias say there is "no politics in it."

A few days ago the Paris mob was crying "Spin upon Zola," and the press correspondents were wiring that Zola's conviction was inevitable. Only Zola was calm. Today the conviction of the courageous and famous novelist is not so certain and the mob is becoming quieter. Zola may be acquitted; he may not be able to secure a new trial for Dreyfus, which is his ultimate desire, but even now the reading public outside of France believes that the exiled Jew is innocent, and France herself is hesitating. The idol of France is her army; the execration of the populace is the Jew. But even the Parisian mob would forgive his hatred of the Jew sooner than it would entrap a breath of suspicion that would tarnish the honor of the army. Emile Zola may so far as the French people consider end to the present anti-Semitic movement, but the other French cities, the and other French cities, Dreyfus' mean acquittal of Captain is a French officer, that the whole army is honeycombed with corruption, and Dreyfus was made a Jew. Zola simply because he only is on trial before the court, yet his acquittal would convict some of the most prominent civil and military officials in France before the bar of public opinion. Every succeeding day of this great trial brightens the prospects of Zola, yet his acquittal is one of the improbabilities.

VETO NOT CERTAIN.

Governor's Attitude Toward the McChord Bill Is Unknown.

It Is Known That He Opposes Other Measures—Gossip From Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 16.—(Special to the Louisville Times.)—It will take a mind reader to tell in advance what the Governor is going to do with the McChord Railroad Extension Bill, which is now past both houses, and which will become a law unless he vetoes it. Even then it may be passed over that veto. It will be several days before the measure is enrolled, signed and sent to the Executive, but it will be with him more than ten days before the end of the session, and if he vetoes it the assembly will have ample time in which to consider such veto. It is generally understood that the measure didn't get in the senate the veto which the constitution requires to carry it over a veto, and if such veto should come it is possible that in the senate it would die. However, if there is any real reason for rejecting such a veto in this case the fact has not been made public. It is true that the Republicans voted nearly to a man against the measure in both houses, but Gov. Bradley has never done anything to justify the charge of suspicion that political matters control any of his official actions.

It is safe to presume, however, that he will veto the Prisons Commission Bill, the Goebel Election Bill and one or two others.

The ministers of the state are doing some quiet but effective lobbying for Senator Roberts' bill amending the general local options bill. They have done this lobbying both by letter and by their presence here. The bill, which was finally and favorably considered by the committee yesterday afternoon, will be reported to and doubtless passed by the Senate today. It is short, makes the country, instead of the precinct, the unit in all votes on the subject of "wet" or "dry," and will "dry" all over except in the county seat to vote "dry" on the latter also, whenever the majority of the whole county so desires. The friends of the measure will press it on and may be through the House.

The Grand Old Man So Broken In Health He Can Live but a Few Weeks.

London, Feb. 15.—Mr. Gladstone until quite recently has been to such an extent present in the minds of his countrymen as the personification of vigor in extreme old age that the authoritative announcement in the Saturday Review that he is suffering from cancer of the nose has startled the public and come upon it in the nature of a shock.

For some weeks past the Grand Old Man has been suffering from what was at first believed to be cancer of the nose and then facial neuralgia. It now turns out that the ailment which has been sapping his strength, and which sends him back here from the South of France terribly enfeebled in body and weary in mind, is nothing more nor less than cancer, a malady so horrible that his friends and acquaintances prefer to call it necrosis of the nose bone. For such a disease, especially when the patient is so advanced in years as the eighty-nine-year-old Mr. Gladstone, there is no possible cure.

POSITIVE PROOF.

A lady friend of mine has for several years been troubled with bumps and pimples on her face and neck, for which she used various cosmetics in order to remove them and beautify and improve her complexion, but these local applications were only temporary, and left her skin in worse condition.

I recommended an internal preparation—known as Botanic Blood Balm, ("B. B. B."), which I have been using and selling about two years; she used three bottles, and all pimples have disappeared; her skin is soft and smooth and her general health much improved. She expresses herself much gratified, and can recommend it to all who are thus affected. Mrs. S. M. Wilson, Iron Mountain, Texas.

PETIT OPPOSES GOEBEL BILL.

The Populist Leader Says the Measure Is Revolutionary and Ought to Meet Defeat.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 16.—Special to the Louisville Post.—The Hon. Thomas S. Petit, who is the acknowledged leader of the populists in the state, was seen by the Evening Post correspondent yesterday and asked for his opinion of the Goebel election bill now pending in the Kentucky legislature.

Mr. Petit said he had not had time to read it carefully, but on a casual perusal it appeared to him to be revolutionary in the extreme. He said: "It deprives counties of local self-government, and will return to plague the party fathering it." He said it was contrary to Democratic principles and on the whole is a most unwise measure.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Petit said, with a determined twinkle of his sharp black eyes: "It is partnership gone to seed and ought to be defeated by all means."

MISS FRANCES WILLARD DYING.

Great Temperance Leader Hopelessly Ill From Influenza and Death Very Near.

New York, Feb. 16.—Miss Frances Willard, known the world over as the greatest of all the W. C. T. U. leaders; is hopelessly ill of influenza at the Empire Hotel in this city. The attending physicians have wired relatives in Chicago that no more can be done for the famous woman, and that death is very near.

She came here month ago, and has been ill almost constantly since. But it was only night before last that her physicians announced that there was no hope of her recovery.

Mrs. Stevens, Vice President of the W. C. T. U., said yesterday.

Miss Willard's condition is more favorable today than it has been for the last three days, but her condition is still serious. She is suffering from a severe attack of grip, but the doctors entertain slight hopes of her recovery. Miss Willard is not suffering from cancer of the stomach.

RIVAL OF CRIPPLE CREEK.

Eldora Gold Camp is Marvelously Rich.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 16.—

The Eldora gold camp, situated about 325 miles northwest of this city and which was not known a few months ago, is believed by men of mining experience and who are in position to judge to be a camp which will in time prove a rival of the famous Cripple Creek district.

Eldora, a town of nearly 1,000 population, is the center of the camp which takes its name. About two miles east of this town is the Eldora town site, which is a jealous rival of the older town, and which is enjoying an activity in real estate almost unprecedented.

The camp is about thirty-two miles long and eight miles wide, and abounds in gold, silver, iron, sulphide, sylvanite and tellurium. Gold was discovered in this region several years ago, but no excitement was created until about eight months ago, when prospecting began in earnest since then values upward of $100 per ton in gold have been discovered. The camp now has forty shipping mines.

Eldora will soon have railroad connections.

The first to reach the field will probably be built by the Colorado Northwestern Railroad company.

But little prospecting can be done at present owing to deep snow, but the hills about the camp are being rapidly staked, and people are pushing in to be ready for operations in the spring.

THE BIG FISH

May Have Once Been in a Steamboat Menagerie.

Councilman J. S. Jackson says that the monster saurian killed a few days near Smithland by Frank Bennett, of the city, may have been one that was kicked from the steamer Idlewild several years ago.

The porter on the boat had a regular menagerie, including animals and reptiles of various descriptions. One day a big animal of the alligator species succeeded in getting out of his cage onto the deck. Capt. Bill Lowth was passing and the "varmint" seized him by the leg. The captain, in his fright kicked him overboard, and Councilman Jackson says the "thing" must have liked Smithland and remained about there until killed.

Col. John Miller, the "Dixie Flyer" man, is in the city selling bushels of cigars. He is being royally entertained by his friends.

Misses Emma and Maggie Biglesberger entertained a number of their friends at euchre last evening at their home on South Third street. Pretty prizes were given, delightful refreshments were served, and a congenial crowd was present. Nothing was left to be desired for a most enjoyable time.

BURGLARS ABOUT.

They Ransack the Kitchen of a South Fifth Street Residence.

Burglars entered the residence of Mrs. A. H. Nunnemacher, at 311 South Fifth street, last night, and stole a quantity of provisions from the kitchen. They secured an entrance through a window by forcing open the shutters, breaking out a pane of glass and unlocking the door. A quantity of flour, coffee, potatoes and other eatables were taken.

The dining room separates the kitchen and the bed room in which the occupants of the house were sleeping, and to this fact is attributed the reason for them not being aroused.

The burglars were considerate enough, however, to leave enough provisions for breakfast for the family.

Those late resorts that have gas were not seriously affected, as the water reservoir at the gas works was sufficient to furnish steam. Many places, where the gas had been supplemented by incandescent lights, however, were forced to resort to lamps or candles.

CLOSE CALL.

The Steamer Nisbet Catches Fire At Henderson.

The steamer W. F. [Nisbet], which arrived this forenoon, had her cabin deck badly torn up. This was the result of a fire yesterday while the steamer was at Henderson. The blaze started up near the pilot house, and it was only by dint of quick action that she was saved.

PLANT DISABLED ONCE BEFORE.

The Water company was closed down only once before in the history of Paducah. That was about ten years ago when a steamboat ran against the intake and broke the intake.

Owensboro last year suffered from a disaster similar to the one that now invests Paducah. The sand filled the intakes to such an extent the plant had to close.

RAILROAD SHOPS SHUT DOWN.

By far the most serious suspension of business was at the Illinois Central shops. There was no water with which to make steam, and the 400 or more workmen were forced to return home. Master Mechanic Hassman, with the true courtesy that is characteristic of him, immediately sent a delegation of his best mechanics to the water plant, subject to the orders of the superintendent. Their arrival was a godsend to the weary workmen who had been laboring hard all night.

THE WATER COMPANY QUITS.

At noon the street cars suspended until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Water was being pumped from both the river and LaBelle park lake. At 2 o'clock one car was placed on each division, and President Wallace stated that power and light would be furnished tonight, but that it could be done only if the people burned half their lights—in other words, the company can furnish but half power.

TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The telephone company, whose generator is run by water, was also
